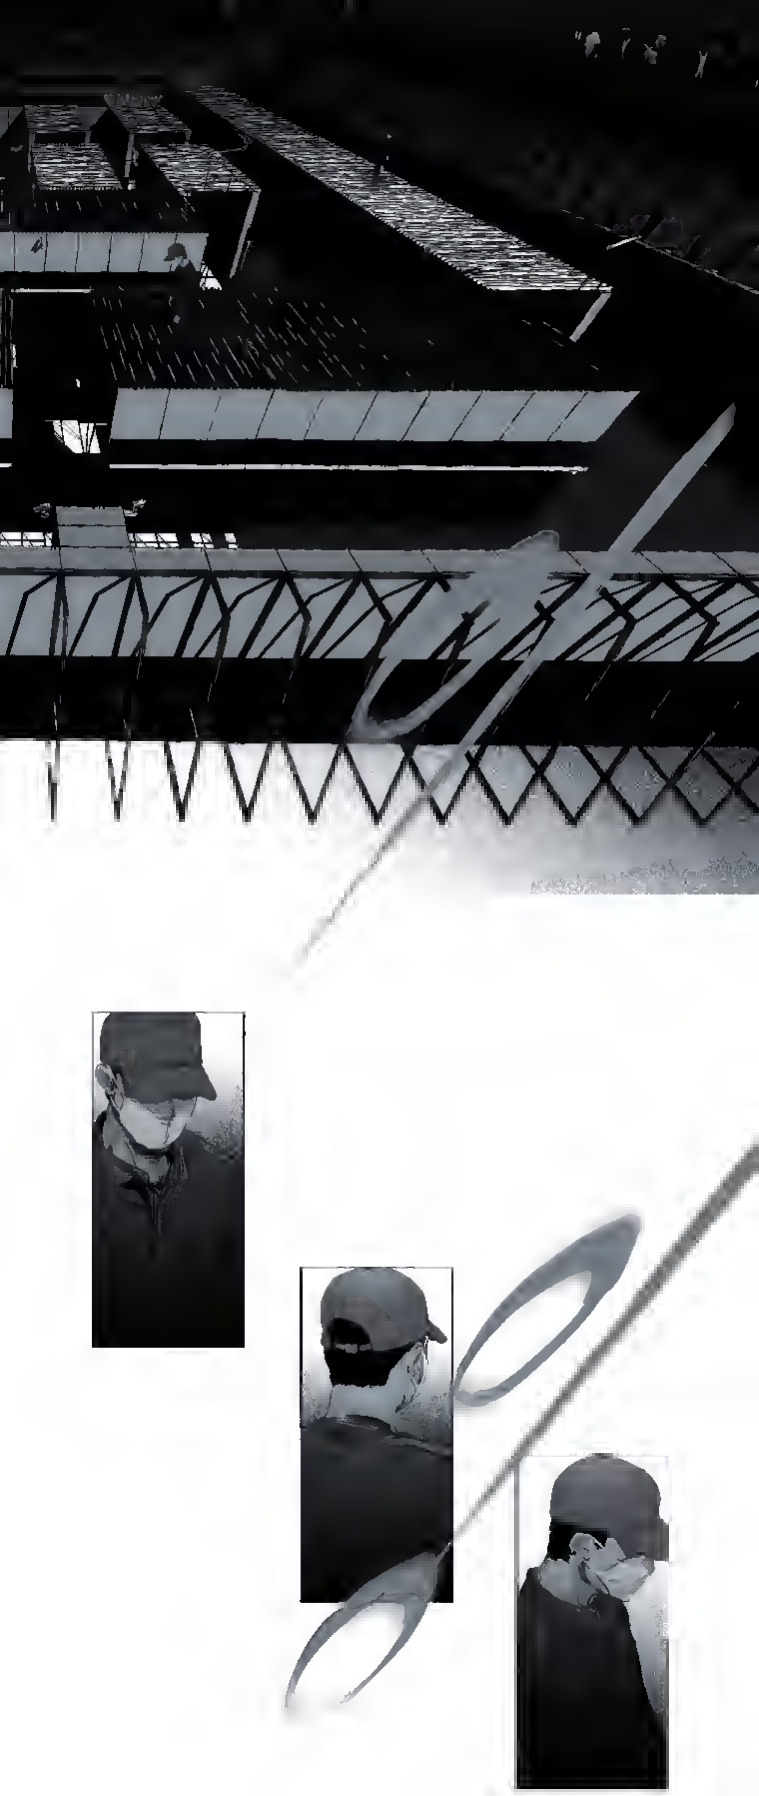
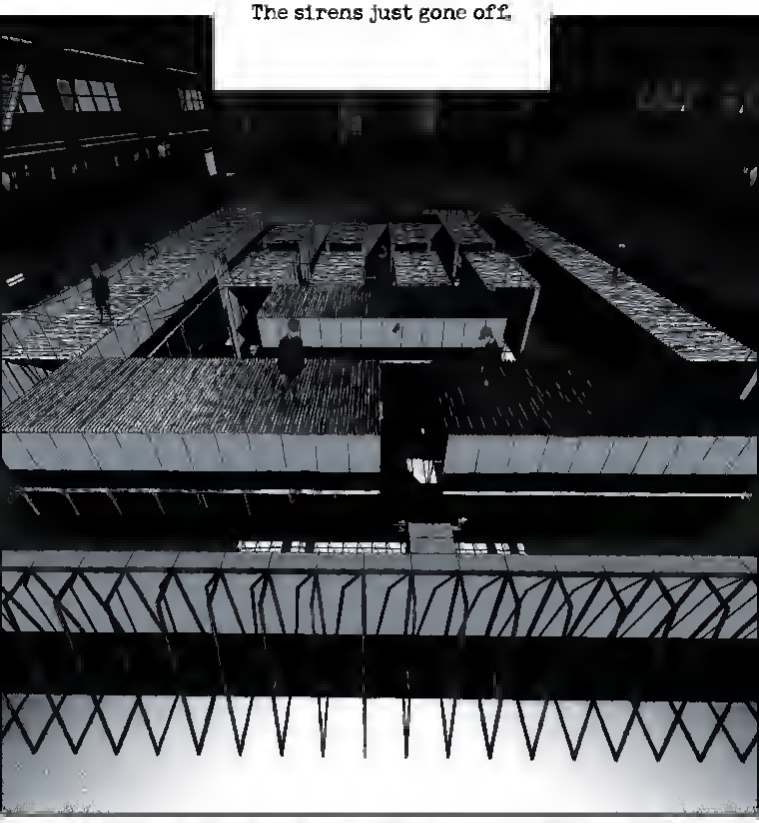
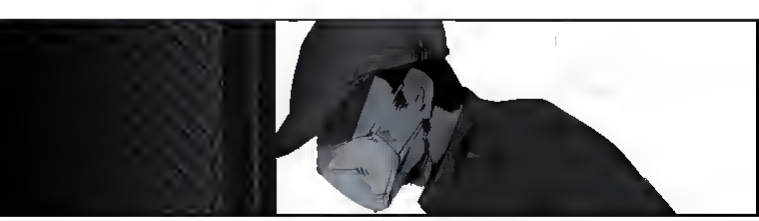
The crowds go
where the money goes.



The sirens just gone off.





The siren signals
the beginning of the preparation phase and opening of the only door
leading to the stage.

You gain points as you win a fight, the one who has the most points is declared
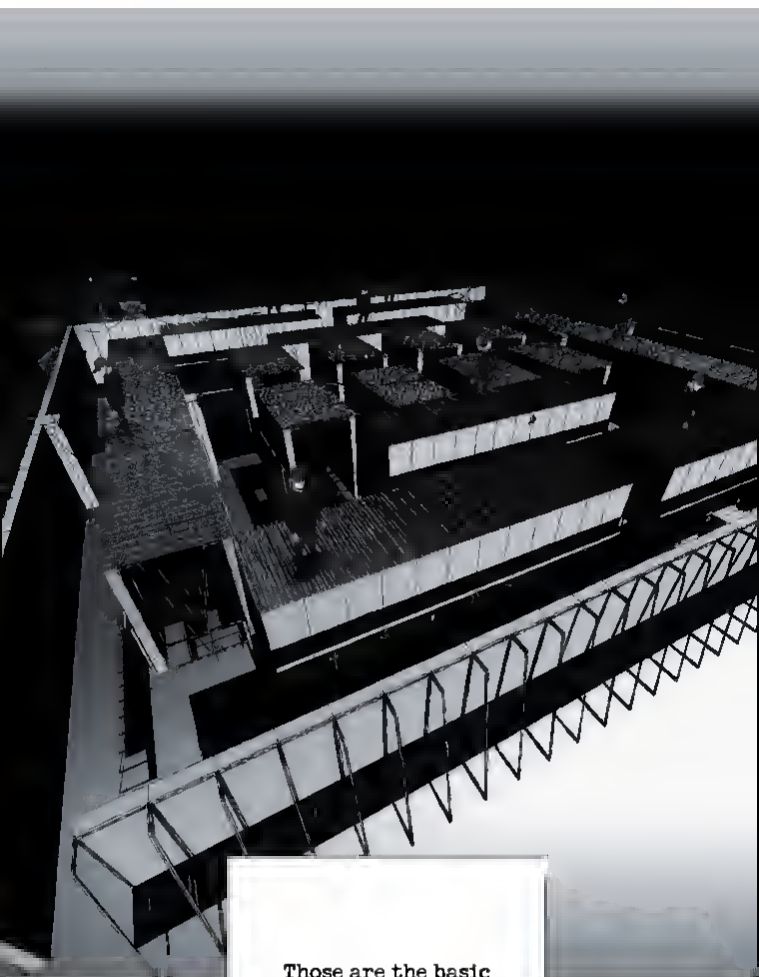
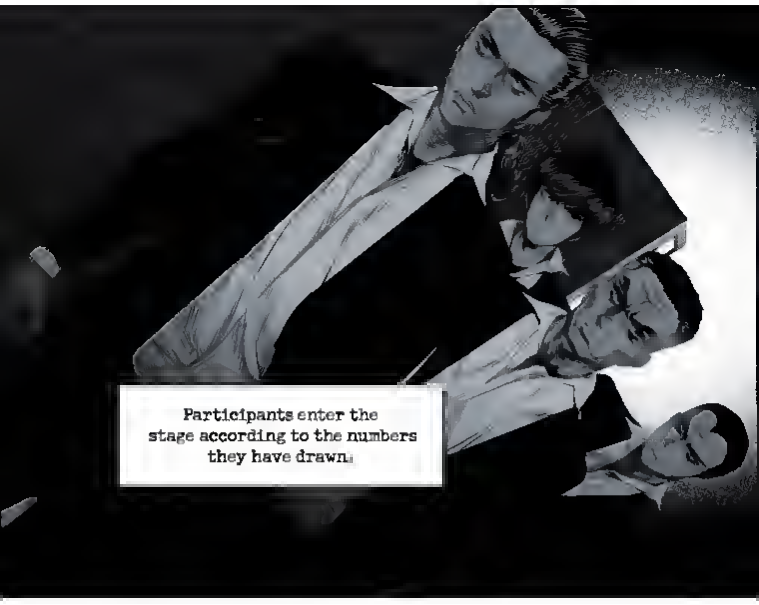
as the final winner.



Those are the basic rules of the game.



Participants enter the stage according to the numbers they have drawn.

There aren't any predetermined starting positions.
The participants may choose any position to start.

The drawn number tag must be kept in the front pocket of their suits.

A fatal penalty of 10 points is applied whenever the number tag is lost to an opponent.

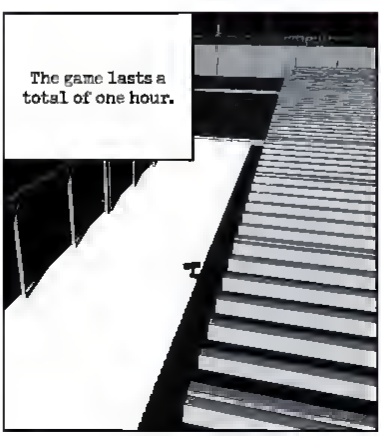
+3 points for every victory. -3 for every loss.

Several staff members assist with the game by making calls.



The game lasts a total of one hour.
